GST 102 — Communication in English

Lecture 4 — Course Notes

Formal letters follow a standard structure with address, salutation, and body.

Clarity and conciseness make writing easier to understand.

Paraphrasing restates a passage in your own words without changing the meaning.

An outline organises ideas before a long essay is written.

Non verbal cues include gestures, posture, and facial expression.

Register refers to the level of formality in language use.

Note taking helps the listener capture the main points of a lecture.

The topic sentence introduces the main idea of a paragraph.

A memorandum is a short, direct message used within a formal organisation.

Communication is the transfer of a message from a sender to a receiver.